Observations...

By the Editor

The American Federation of Labor has 19 United States Senators slated for the purge in the coming elections and included in the group is John Stennis of Mississippi . . . Well, they certainly are taking on a load when they undertake the job of defeating John Stennis . . . Senator Stennis was not elected by a vast plurality when he was named to the Senate over our good friend Bill Colmer, but today we think he is one of the strongest men in the State . . . When he was elected, we regretted deeply that Bill Colmer had not been elevated to the Senate, but it worked out fine for the State in the final . . . We have two of the best men in the Congress from this State in Bill and John Stennis, and we think that the American Federation of Labor should realize that they have taken on a man size job to defeat John Stennis, who, in a very short time, has become one of the outstanding members of the United States Senate, and one of the few statesmen in that great legislative body . . .

We note that the Circuit Clerk's Association of Mississippi will ask the Legislature to take care of some of the loop holes in the Absentee voters law . . . This law is a boon to both the candidate and to the voters who may be absent from their usual voting place on election day, and care should be exercised that it is not used in order to defeat its purposes . In a close election the lack of discretion in the use of the absentee voters ballot could mean the difference between election and defeat for a candidate . . . It is a worthwhile law and it should be preserved on the statute books, and those charged with its operation should exercise every precaution to safeguard it, realizing that the moulding of opinion in opposition to it would cause its repeal. This certainly will be brought about if its provisions are disregarded . . .

Our young friend, Hardin Shattuck, manager of the Coast Electric Power Association, was all smiles when shown a copy of the Jackson Daily News, which carried a picture under the head, "Outstanding Architectural Design Pleases Judges" . . . and guess what? The design which won first place in the Mississippi Chapter, American Institute of Architects' exhibition, was the Coast Electric Building in Bay St. Louis . . . Hardin, we think, was probably as proud as Tom Biggs who designed the building . . . From Jackson the exhibit will be forwarded to Memphis for competition . . . It had better not win in too many spots. We won't be able to do anything with Shattuck . . . Well, anyway, you can bet your bottom dollar he had a lot to do with that new building which is a credit to Bay St. Louis, and you can always bank, that next to his family, the two things uppermost in Hardin's mind are Coast Electric and Bay St. Louis . . .

We keep telling our friend Chance Cole, that one of the greatest assets Picayune has is the northern part of Hancock County . . . The Picayune Lions and the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored an entry in the Forestry Queen contest, and their entry was declared the Pearl River County winner, and has since been declared the district winner at Laurel . . . But, guess what? The young lady is from Flat Top in Hancock County . . . Miss Barbara Martin . . . Miss Martin is a student at Picayune High School . . . Congratulations, Barbara, and may you be crowned "Queen of the Forest" . . .

Circle October 10 on your calendar and remember that you have a date for the spaghetti supper to be given by the Mothers Club of St. Joseph Academy at the Knights of Columbus Home on the night of October 10 . . . The cost, only $1.00 per plate . . . For what . . . a delicious meal . . .

The Crusade for Freedom Drive has reached its financial quota of $145.00 in Hancock County, but the membership quota has not been gained. Homer Gregory, the chairman, is asking that everyone sign the membership scroll whether they make a contribution or not . . . It is all important, as he says, that every person back this program to the fullest . . . It is the program designed to get the word from a free country to those poor unfortunate behind the iron curtain . . .

REA Building Wins 1st Place In Architect Exhibit

The October 2 issue of the JACKSON DAILY NEWS carries an article of interest to Bay St. Louis and Hancock County concerning the local Coast Electric Power Association.

The article said that the state medal prize for outstanding architectural design was presented in Jackson at a tea in the state office building October 1, to Higgs, Wair and Chandler, Jackson architects-engineers, for their design of the REA office building at Bay St. Louis.

The judges—J. Frazier Smith, fellow of American Institute of Architects, Memphis; Charles Colber, New Orleans, architectural director of the New Orleans school expansion program; and Merleland G. Smith, Montgomery, Alabama, said the design was chosen because of its simplicity, use of rich materials in entrance foyer, multiple use of the feature room, and practically perfect adaptation to fit the building to the pine-tree wooded plot.

The show, sponsored by the Mississippi chapter of American Institute of Architects, is directed by John Turner, Jackson architect.

The display in Woolfolk State Office Building will be open through October 13 to the public; and six of the top exhibits, including that of the REA building, will enter competition at Memphis.

Second place went to James T. Canizaro, Jackson architect, for the Harrison's solar house in Jackson, and third place went to Bobby Overstreet for the Mississippi Title Insurance Company building on South Congress street, Jackson.

Other firms received honorable mention and special mentions.

TIME FOR RELIEF

Taxes! What a detestable, abominable word. Yet, there are two things that we must certainly do—pay taxes and die. But, with a little sound thinking on the part of those who do the levying, tax paying could be made a little more pleasant.

The average taxpayer raises little complaint when called upon to pay a fair and just proportion of the cost of our city and county government. Inequalities in taxation make the advalorem system most inequitable, and it is our hope that the day will arrive when advalorem taxes will be completely abolished.

On the first day of October license tags for automobiles went on sale; and, under the new law, it is mandatory that you present a tax receipt for the personal tax on your automobile before you can secure your license. And you must secure your license if you expect to operate your car. In the last campaign we heard a lot of talk about lowering the cost of automobile tags to $3.00, but we heard very little talk about either removing or lowering the advalorem tax on automobiles. It is not the cost of the tags which lowers the boom on the automobile owner, it is the personal tax. If the assessment of automobiles was made fairly and impartially and on the same basis as real property, then the taxpayer would probably have no cause for gripes. But what do we find? Real property is assessed for anywhere from 10% to 25% of its value. Check the assessment on your car and you will find the valuation far greater proportionately than this. These values are not established by your local taxing authorities, but by the State Tax Commission, and for some particular reason of their own, each make of car carries a valuation, with no differential as to the type. In other words, if you own an Oldsmobile, and it is one of the lower price models, your assessment is on an equal basis with the higher price model, even though the other car may have cost $1000.00 more. Taxation, after all, is based on the value of property. An automobile is property and its valuation should certainly be based on its original cost.

Once upon a time an automobile was considered a luxury; today it is a necessity and when we take into consideration the amount of tax paid for the use of an automobile gasoline tax, license tax, and personal tax we find that of all the necessary objects we need in our everyday life, it is the highest taxed of all.

LOGTOWN NEWS

By Jay Metz

The Logtown School Parent-Teachers Association sponsored a Fun Nite last Friday evening, September 28, which, all who attended will agree, was a huge success. The party was held as a benefit for the school, to raise funds available to the P.T.A. to pay for certain necessary improvements and additions to the school.

Features of Fun Nite included a series of 30 minute movies, a circus room, mystery and beauty box booths, a fish pond, grab bags, food and drinks at bargain prices, doll house and doll collection, and the sale of donated flowers, plants and pottery.

The slogan of the party was "Wear a hat and have fun." Hats were of all sizes, shapes and descriptions and showed much ingenuity throughout. The judges of the hat contest, after much circulation, observation and discussion finally decided that such cleverness and ingenuity on the part of the school children could not be decided on an individual basis, so they awarded each of the classrooms a prize. This prize will be a picture for the room, the picture being one of their own selection.

The circus room, prepared by Mrs. Eunice Casanova and Mrs. Eldora Summers, was elaborately decorated and equipped with all things pertaining to a circus. Featured in this room was a hand made circus train with hand carved horses pulling the many wagons and miniature hand carved animals of all sorts and descriptions. The circus train was built by Frank Parker of New Orleans and built in his spare time as a hobby, was the object of interest of young and old alike.

The flowers, plants and pottery display, was a beautiful exhibit, appropriately presented on the stage of the school. This exhibit, of which all articles were donated, was presented in a professional manner by Mrs. Ed DeBoer, assisted by Mrs. Leonard Forestall and Mrs. Emma Casanova.

Mystery and beauty boxes were pleasingly displayed on tea tables. These booths were operated by Mrs. C. W. Fountain and Mrs. Ruby Bennett. All boxes were beautifully wrapped, and sold rapidly for twenty-five cents per box. Many purchasers were amazed to find dollar bills or fifty cent pieces hidden in their boxes, in addition to the usual surprise contained therein.

The doll booth, operated by Miss Lucia Metzler, included a completely equipped doll house and a beautiful collection of her period dolls which had been gathered from all over the world. These dolls were dressed in the costume of the country from which they were obtained and were exact in every detail. This booth, like the circus room, was heavily populated by the youngsters, especially the girls.

The luncheon was replete with hot dogs, sandwiches, cakes, cookies, candies and soft drinks. Nothing better can be said about this efficient department than—that when the crowd headed for home all food was gone.

The fish pond and the grab bags provided hilarious enjoyment and entertainment for the youngsters all during the evening.

Movies were shown throughout the evening and pulled in large crowds for every performance. The movies were presented through the courtesy of M. S. Gregory Jackson, Mississippi, agent for Jasper, Ewing and Son of that city, distributor of Audio Video Teaching Equipment.

Too much praise and thanks cannot be given to those who were on the Fun Nite Committee and those who served during the evening. They included the Brisstows, the Forestalls, the DeBoers, the Metzlers, Mrs. Lucille Strahan, Mrs. Gladys Baxter, Mrs. Eunice Casanova, Mrs. Emma Casanova, Mrs. Eldora Summers, the Harries, Miss Gladys Patch, Mrs. C. W. Fountain, Mrs. Ruby Bennett, Miss Annie Summers, Mrs. Lolly Wright, Mr. John Carter, and many others who pitched in when the traffic was heaviest.

The sale of flowers and plants, mystery and beauty boxes, and food and soft drinks, almost all of which was donated, plus the small admission charges made for the movies, circus and doll house resulted almost $300 for the night. Previous donations and contributions to the School Fund mean that approximately $450 was available. This money is going immediately into the purchase of equipment for the indoor restrooms and for installation of an adequate drainage system. Work on this project will start just as soon as all equipment is purchased and a plumber is hired.

Bay St. Louis guests at Fun Nite included Miss Lotette Webb and Miss Madge Allred, both well known in this community.

Monday, October 1, members of the Executive Committee of the P.T.A. met at the school to discuss the possibility of the purchase of a 16 mm projector and screen similar to that used at Fun Nite. Mrs. Bristol, president of the P.T.A., pointed out that a number of people had noted the enthusiasm with which the movies were accepted at Fun Nite, and had subsequently made sizeable donations for the express purpose of purchasing a projector and screen for the school. This equipment if obtained would be used in the school to show educational films as supplement to the present classroom work. In addition, weekly, or bi-monthly, full length movies could be shown in the evenings.

The executive committee agreed that this was a matter which should be brought up before a general P.T.A. meeting. All residents of Logtown, Pearlington and Napoleon, therefore, who have any feeling or interest in the matter are asked to be present at the next P.T.A. meeting to express their views. Date of this meeting will be announced soon.

WBA MEETS

Mrs. Frank Trapani was hostess to the WBA Review No. 10 at her home Monday, October 1.

A report was heard on the recent benefit bingo game which netted $131.30. After the business meeting Mrs. Trapani served an ice course.

The cake which was given by the WBA members was awarded to Bill Witter.

Certainly, some relief should be afforded the car owner. The $3.00 licenses will not afford the relief. Our lawmakers should go into the matter of relieving the personal tax on automobiles. It should be number one on the agenda at the 1952 session of the Legislature.

Mrs. D. E. Strahan of Pearlington, mother of Mrs. Nolan Ladner, is in the Hattiesburg Infirmary for treatment preliminary to an operation.

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Keele left this week for an extended trip to Chicago and other points of interest. They will be gone for several months.

with a compost of well-decayed soon after you plant the ryegrass.

Ryegrass will come up quickly and continue to grow throughout the winter. It will die down in the spring about the time the permanent lawn starts growth.

BALKY SEWING MACHINE

Is your sewing machine acting balky this fall after its summer vacation? Maybe all it needs is a good cleaning and oiling.

Dust, grit, lint and thread easily collect on the working parts of the machine. They may eventually form a packed mass, soaked and gummed with oil. This can make the machine run hard and sometimes causes it to jam or lock. Lack of oil also can cause trouble.

The best thing is to follow the manufacturer's directions concerning the care of your machine. If you have an older machine and have lost the directions, ask your home agent for help. Maybe she can solve your problem.

In these days of mobilization and conservation, a little extra care of all household machines, equipment and appliances is in order. With rising prices and reduced production of consumer goods, who knows when you might be able to replace them.

REMOVING RUST STAINS

You may be able to remove the copper and rust stains from painted siding on your house (depending on the kind of paint used), by washing with a solution of $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of household ammonia in a quart of water.

Rinse immediately with plenty of clear water, as the solution may have a softening effect on the paint.

If the paint contains a chemical that resists the action of the ammonia, the remedy is to repaint. Try the solution on a small inconspicuous place first to see what the reaction is.

There is no real remedy for removing screen stain from asbestos siding. Prevention is the best remedy. Removing the stain seems to create a worse problem.

WINTER GRASS

If you want a lawn of Winter or Italian ryegrass, it isn't too late. The seed can still be sowed in October. Broadcast them over the area and rake them into the soil with a common garden rake.

It is a good plan to mow the summer grass closely, loosen the soil with a rake, and sow the ryegrass. Top-dress the lawn lightly manure or topsoil from the woods.

Bay High ChatterBAY HIGH HOMEMAKING DEPARTMENT AT WORK

The course of study for the Homemaking Department of the Bay St. Louis High school is built with the developmental needs and interest of the boys and girls in mind.

Students are potential homemakers, boys as well as girls. Practically all boys and girls share in family responsibilities. In doing so they meet such problems as selecting and preparing foods for adequate nutrition; selecting and purchasing clothing; getting along with family members and friends; caring for their own money; planning time for diversion and recreation; home improvement as well as many other similar type problems.

Our aim in homemaking at Bay High is to help students make wise decisions in solving these basic problems of living. This is done by having a series of units at each grade level built on need and interest of students. These units provide instruction and practical experiences for the students. Some of the practical experiences which students have participated in thus far this year have been thoroughly cleaning the department which included washing windows, woodwork, cabinets and screens, repainting the kitchen cabinets with white enamel, cleaning the floor, applying two coats of gym glaze and waxing with Johnson's glaze. This work was done cooperatively by all homemaking students. A class of sophomores and seniors, stimulated by the attractive floors, made plans to redecorate the bedroom and bath. The class consisted of eight boys and four girls.

The bedroom has a southeast exposure. Colors for such an exposure were discussed and light gray walls and woodwork with white ceiling was their choice. The room is in the process of being painted by the following boys: George Nease, Ronald Fricke, Marvin Dorr, Albert Asher, George Day, Lucien Hazlett and Norvin Roos. The floor will be refinished next.

Hermon Poillon and Floyd Garcia selected the bathroom for their project. They carefully patched all cracked and chipped plaster before painting. They then painted the bathroom a two-tone dusty rose. The floor will be the next step to complete their planned activity.

The local school board provides a budget for the operation of the homemaking department. We have the same problems a home would have, buying paint, new equipment and purchasing food and still living within a budget. We do not feel that our budget will stand everything we want—for example, new curtains and bed spread for bedroom—so, the students are working out a plan whereby they can earn the money to complete the project. We feel that all of this helps students to, in some measure, be a better home member and to meet every day problems at home and school.

F. H. A. ACTIVITIES

As part of the program of homemaking in the school, the Future Homemakers of America is an organization, which offers opportunity for the further development of the pupil in planning and carrying out activities related to homemaking. The officers for this year were chosen at the first meeting of the F. H. A. Club Friday, September 28. They are: president, Helen Ruth Moran; vice president, Temple Perkins; secretary, Lyndall Heitzmann; treasurer, Peggy De Haan; reporter, Pansy Parker; parliamentarian, Darling Normand.

The local program of work is centered around planning the State and National program, which carries out the eight purposes of the F. H. A.

The organization has yearly projects—one of the projects for this year is refurbishing the bedroom of the Home Economics Department. As yet, others have not been set.

The activities in which the local chapter will participate are of two types: namely, money making and entertaining.

Other than the meetings the chapter holds twice a month, there are sub-district meetings held twice a year, and State and National Conventions yearly.

BUSINESS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT GETS FACE LIFT

The students of the business education department have been busy redecorating the department. The work has been done by the students who do not have a class during the sixth period. All the bookkeeping desks and seats were sanded by Ronald Russell, John Oliver, James Tamplin and A. J. Bessancor. Barbara Ann Burrow, Helen Ruth Moran, Clara Puchet and Mary Lou Sciamone came to the aid of the four boys and helped apply the coats of varnish.

The stimulus for this work was provided by the school board when they purchased all new adjustable typewriting tables, four new typewriters, and an adding machine for the bookkeeping department. It is a known fact that a well-kept department is more conducive to good work and creates a more businesslike atmosphere for students who expect to enter the business world.

All the students are grateful to those who have worked so diligently to improve the department.

BAY HIGH HAS FIRE DRILL

Bay High School had its first official fire drill Tuesday morning. A practice drill was conducted last week. It took a minute and three-quarters to clear the building of students and teachers Tuesday morning.

Students in each classroom are assigned a definite side of the hall and stairs as an exit from the building. The students nearest the windows are assigned to close the windows nearest them.

Other fire drills will be conducted at unexpected times to the students and teachers for safety measures in case of fire.

DRAMATICS

The Junior-Senior Dramatic Club of Bay High School elected officers Thursday, September 27.

Officers went to Mary Lou Sciamone, president; Louis Bonneford, vice president; Vernon Parker, secretary-treasurer; and Jerry Nichols, reporter.

Forgetting all the chatter, let's get down to facts and a short summary of our football season.

ADDITIONAL GAME ADDED TO TIGERS FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

The Bay Tigh Tigers will meet the Ridgewood High School of New Orleans here October 12, at Stanislaus stadium.

This game was scheduled to take the place of the O. L. V. game on the original schedule. O. L. V. of Pascoagia dropped football, and left an open date for this team.

Ridgewood is a member of the Metropolitan League of the City.

The Bay Central PTA will meet Tuesday, October 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the youth center with Wayne Aliston, president, presiding.

Dr. Ray N. Byrd, guest speaker, is to discuss the Dental Program at Bay High, of which he is in charge. All parents are urged to attend. October is the State P.T.A. birthday month.

ELEMENTARY NEWS

The elementary grades have received record albums of songs in the American Singer, our singing books. Most of the rooms have phonographs and with the use of the new records, we can carry on a singing program in the classroom in conjunction with our regular music lessons. Mrs. Carl Smith, director of public school music, feels as though the children will be able to learn many more songs this year.

We are in the midst of the Crusade for Freedom Drive in the elementary grades and the response is pretty good.

Med Loan Blanks Mailed to Students

Today Medical Education Board offices mailed applications to students making inquiry about State medical education loans to become effective at mid-year.

Mississippi students interested in these loans for mid-year may file applications on and after October 1, 1951.

The Board office emphasized that all applications for State medical education loans to become effective at mid-year should be received before November 1, 1951, deadline set by the Board for receipt of applications for mid-year loans this year. Interested applicants are urged to file early.

As of the present date, over 60 young physicians are practicing in rural areas as a result of the State medical education loan program. More than 60 others are serving internship during 1951-1952 and will be ready to enter rural practice during that period.

State medical education loans are available to bona fide citizens and residents of Mississippi who wish to become family doctors in this State, especially in the rural areas. All loan recipients agree to practice in rural areas for a minimum period of years but by remaining five years the loan recipient may receive complete credit for the entire amount of his loan, up to a maximum of $5,000.

Cancer Society To Meet Oct. 17

The biggest meeting of cancer workers ever held in Mississippi—and one of the biggest meetings in the entire South—will take place on October 17 at Hotel Heidelberg in Jackson. This convention marks the third biennial meeting of the Mississippi Division of the American Cancer Society, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Bates, executive vice-chairman of the state organization.

Representatives from all of the state's 82 counties are expected at this meeting, in which nationally and internationally famous cancer specialists will participate.

Purpose of the meeting is to spread information on cancer and inspire more determined action on the part of cancer workers. Basic points of discussion throughout the meeting will be: What is Mississippi's actual cancer problem and what can be done about it?

With more than 11,000 living cancer victims in Mississippi today, interest in the disease has reached a new high. The general public is therefore being invited to attend any or all of the programs.

The morning and afternoon general sessions will include the following discussions: "Terminal Care" by Dr. E. R. Nobles; "Loan Closets" by Mrs. Augustus Street; "An Education Program for the County Level" by Miss Mary Elkin; "Policies of the American Cancer Society" by Mr. M. R. Runyon, executive vice president of the American Cancer Society; and "Research in Cancer Control" by Dr. John D. Dr. W. V. Hare. In addition, Dr. W. V. Hare will lead a discussion at the close of the afternoon session.

In addition, a special medical and scientific program for doctors in the afternoon will include discussions of "Malignancies of the Neck," "Malignancies of the Gastrointestinal Tract," and "The Medical Aspect to the Cancer Problem."

Participating in various parts of the program will be such outstanding figures as Dr. Alton Ochsner, past president of the American Cancer Society; Dr. Fred Homburger, internationally known physician in the cancer field; Dr. Francis M. Hassie of Lexington, Kentucky; and Dr. George Crile, Jr., of Cleveland, Ohio.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Erwin and young daughter, Nita Kay, spent the past weekend with Mrs. Erwin's parents Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Johnson, at Philadelphia, Mississippi.

Perennial Prosperity

No single natural resource is so essential to the perennial prosperity of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Country as its forests. Rainfall, climate and soil combine to make this ideal for growing trees.

Usually, a natural resource is soon exhausted, but trees reproduce themselves, to provide a prosperity projected into the future. And products from our forests increase in value and usefulness. Through chemurgy new miracles are being performed with cellulose and paper pulp.

The harvesting and processing of forest products already contribute $350,000,000 annually to the state's wealth. The production and manufacturing of timber provides employment for 150,000 people, distributes $150,000,000 in annual payrolls and pays 14 percent of the state's taxes.

The State of Mississippi now embraces 16,500,000 acres of forest land, 1,800,000 acres of which are owned by government (state and federal), 3,000,000 acres owned and farmed by industrial corporations and 11,700,000 acres by individuals. It has been estimated that a good stand of timber, well cared for, will net up to $6.00 per acre per year.

The prosperity of South Mississippi may be substantially increased through reforestation, fire prevention, more intelligent care, the regeneration of the long pine and th cultivation of improved strains. Certainly, in this Gulf Coast country trees are our foremost crop. We can grow them faster, cheaper and quicker here than in almost any other area.

You can do your part to promote reforestation, protect young growth, prevent fires and create new wealth.

Though Joyce Kilmer said, and with truth, that "only God can make a tree," we can all cooperate with those individuals and agencies that endeavor to keep our forests green and our prosperity permanent. The conservation of our forests is one form of frugality that produces perennial dividends.

Corner 3rd and Sycamore

County Agent's Notes

By JAMES TOLER

Don't feed rats, mice and corn weevils this winter. Right now they are waiting for you to harvest your corn and put it in the crib so that they can get fat.

In addition to eating and destroying much of the grain crop in Mississippi, rats spread both animal and human disease. A rat has no useful purpose and should not be tolerated on the farm or in any inhabited place.

CONTROL—The first step in rat eradication is clean-up. Clean the barn and cribs; the rubbish from under piles of fence posts, lumber and wood and other places where the rats can find shelter.

Control must be done as a community project to be entirely successful as rats move from one farm to another.

Warfarin, obtainable as a one-half percent powder or ready-mixed in baits will give excellent control of rats. To mix your own baits, use one pound of the warfarin powder with 19 pounds of coarsely ground yellow corn meal. For mice add five percent by weight of sugar to the mixture.

For rats, place one cupful of bait in shallow container where rats are accustomed to eating. For mice, place approximately one teaspoonful of bait in each container and place where small children and domestic animals cannot reach it.

Bait stations must be examined each day and bait added as necessary as the rats and mice must eat the mixture for several days in succession for it to kill them.

WEEVILS—In the central and southern part of the state, weevils destroy from one-fourth to one-half the corn crop annually if not controlled.

CONTROL—Clean out old weevil infested corn. Spray the floors and walls of the crib with a two percent mixture of either DDT or methoxychlor. Apply so as to leave a residue around cracks and crevices.

Fumigation is the most effective control of weevils. Line the crib before placing the new crop in the crib. Cribs can be lined with 15-pounds asphalt building felt, light-weight roofing, or orange-labeled sisal-kraft paper. Cribs must be as near air tight as possible to do a good job of fumigation.

DUSTS—Commercial dust mixtures of pyrethrum and piperonyl butoxide will give satisfactory results on shelled corn and grain. However, dusts do not have good results on unshucked corn.

FATTENING HOGS

Corn is the basic grain for hogs and is unsurpassed as a feed for growing-fattening pigs.

It requires approximately 12 bushels of corn to produce 100 pounds of pork when corn is fed without a protein supplement. By using a protein supplement, the corn requirement is reduced by six to eight pounds.

Oats are worth about 80 percent the value of corn as a feed for growing-fattening pigs. By grinding the oats, their value is increased by about 28 percent. Oats should never make up more than one-third of the total fattening ration; preferably not more than one-fourth the ration.

KEEP MISSISSIPPI GREEN

PROCLAMATION—Governor Fielding Wright has proclaimed the week of October 7-13 as "Keep Mississippi Green Week."

Prevent Forest Fires and help the economy of our nation and state. Every year Mississippi has an average of 46,358 forest fires that burn an average of more than two million acres. This takes a big slice out of the income of many farmers and generally reduces Mississippi's wealth of natural resources.

You can help practice the ABC's of forest fire prevention: Break matches before throwing them away. Bury cigarette butts and pipe "heels." Always use the ashtray in your car and do not throw lit cigarette butts from the car window. Be extra careful with trash fires. Use care in all woods operations. Know and obey all fire laws.

OPS NEWSBEEF GRADING EXEMPTIONS

The Office of Price Stabilization has amended its beef regulations to permit the keeping and handling of ungraded and ungrade-marked beef which has been certified to be for home consumption by resident farm operators or livestock raisers. The new amendments are effective October 1. The amended beef regulations permit retailers to store and keep this ungraded and ungrade-marked beef in locker plants and other places of storage for home consumers. It is provided, however, that the retailer who keeps this meat must identify by wrapping and marking these meats placed in his establishment.

The grading exemptions provided for in the new amendments are in no event applicable to beef resulting from livestock slaughtered by or for Class 3 slaughterers who are permitted to sell up to 6,000 pounds of beef a year.

PRICING BY NEW MANUFACTURERS

New manufacturers who cannot determine ceiling prices under the machinery Ceiling Price Regulation 30 because they were not in business before January 1, 1951 may now apply to the Office of Price Stabilization for approval of proposed ceilings. Application may be made for either specific ceiling or a price determining method. Such application should be made on OPS Public Form No. 90 or 91 and sent by registered mail to OPS in Washington.

RAILROAD CROSS TIES

Untreated railroad cross ties produced in the Eastern part of the United States have been removed temporarily from all price control. The exemption is effective October 3, 1951 and continuing until the issuance of a tailored Ceiling Price Regulation for the industry or until January 1952, whichever is the earlier, under the provisions of Supplementary Regulation 68 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

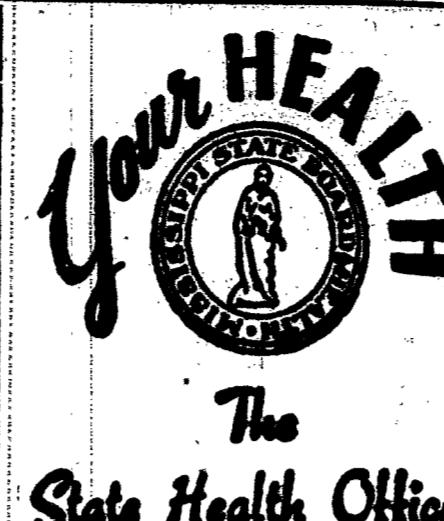

AGRICULTURAL LIMING MATERIALS

OPS has issued a regulation under which producers and sellers of agricultural liming materials will establish their selling prices by formula. The regulation applies to materials sold for spraying, dusting and soil liming purposes. This regulation will relieve hardship in certain portions of the industry and help assure availability of supplies for the agricultural needs of the country. Producers determine their ceilings on July sales, f. o. b. plant by adding to the highest prices received from various classes of customers during the base period of January 1 to June 30, 1950, the increase in the average cost per ton of producing the material occurring between that period and the period January 1 to June 30, 1951. In determining their costs, producers may include labor, power, fuel, raw materials, maintenance, repair and depreciation of equipment, rentals of equipment, insurance and taxes other than income and excess profit taxes.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

by W. F. BOND, Commissioner State Department Public Welfare

The Public Welfare Program, although it has been in existence fifteen years, is still in a formative stage of development in that it has not leveled off and become fixed in its policy in any state. In some states there is a tendency to make a pension of it — that is — give financial assistance to persons who can get along without it. In other states the policy has been to hold it to its original purpose as set forth in the Federal Social Security Act—that is, to give all available funds for the program to those who would actually suffer for the necessities of life such as food, clothing, and shelter without this help. In the end, this policy will mean more money to those who really need it and will not encourage idleness by giving help to those who can get along without it which would be unfair to the tax payers.

THE IRISH QUESTION

As if this country did not have enough troubles on its hands the House Foreign Committee, by a very slight vote, reported on a resolution declaring it to the sense of the House of Representatives that there should be a unification of Northern and Southern Ireland. This resolution died in the House Rules Committee to the floor of the House for consideration, also, by a slight margin. On Thursday last the rule making the resolution in order came up for consideration before the full membership of the House. Those of us who were opposed to the resolution decided upon the strategy of defeating the rule and thus denying consideration of the resolution itself on its merits. This was done upon the theory that since the question was a delicate one in our international affairs the least debate had on the subject the better. After an hour's debate upon the rule the rule was defeated on a roll call vote of almost two to one.

MISSISSIPPI INCOME

A recent survey by the U. S. Department of Commerce shows an all time record of income payments made to individual citizens throughout the country of 217 billion dollars in 1950. This was 11% above the previous year and 186% above the pre-war year of 1940. The survey further showed that the increase in the income of the residents of the several states of the union were highest in the Southern and Western states. The highest increase of the Southern states was in Mississippi which amounted to an increase of 246% over the past ten-year period. North Dakota was highest of all states with an increase of 253%. However, according to the same survey Mississippi is still at the bottom of the list with its per capita income. Incidently, it is interesting to note that the District of Columbia, which showed only an 84% increase, the country's smallest, still has the largest per capita income in the country. This no doubt is accounted for by the fact that Government employees taken by and large and the best paid people in the country. Notwithstanding this fact Congress is under continuous pressure from Government employees for increased pay.
